

THE ATLANTA JOURNAL
4 October 1977

CIA Director to Speak

Adm. Stansfield Turner, the director of the Central Intelligence Agency, will speak Thursday at the first of a new series of breakfast speeches in Atlanta.

The CIA director will speak on "Secrecy and Morality in Intelligence" at the kickoff session of the new Atlanta City Forum, Inc. The talk will begin at 8 a.m. in The Atlanta City Club on the 27th floor of the Equitable Building. A $5 fee is charged.

The forum series was created by a cross-section of Atlanta political and civic leaders in an attempt to bring national newsmakers to the city once a month.